SADOWITZ VETERINARY ACUPUNCTURE, LLC.

Acupuncture Informed Consent to Treat

I hereby request and consent to acupuncture treatments and to other procedures within the scope of practice of acupuncture on my pet by a certified veterinary acupuncturist who now or in the future treats my pet while employed by, working or associated with Sadowitz Veterinary Acupuncture, LLC.

I understand that methods of treatment include, but and not limited to, acupuncture, moxibustion, electrical stimulation, cold laser therapy, Chinese herbal medicine and nutritional counseling. I understand that herbs may need to be prepared and consumed according to instructions given verbally and in writing. The herbs may have an unpleasant smell or taste. I will immediately notify the clinical staff of any unanticipated or unpleasant effects associated with the consumption of the herbs.

I have been informed that acupuncture is generally safe method of treatment, however, there may be some side effects including bruising, numbness or tingling near the needling sites that could last a few days. Unusual risks of acupuncture are spontaneous miscarriage, nerve damage, and organ puncture, including lung puncture (pneumothorax). Infection is a possible risk, although the use of disposable, sterile, one use needles in a clean and safe environment, minimizes that risk. Burns and/or scarring are a possible risk of moxibustion. I understand that while this document describes the major risks of treatment, other side effects and risks may occur. The herbs and nutritional supplements (made from plant, animal and mineral sources) that have been recommended are traditionally considered safe in the practice of Chinese Medicine, although some may be toxic in large doses. I understand that some herbs may be inappropriate during pregnancy. I will notify a clinical staff member if my animal is or becomes pregnant. Some possible side effects of taking herbs include nausea, gas, stomachache, vomiting, diarrhea, rashes, and hives.

I do not expect the clinical staff to be able to anticipate and explain all possible risks and complications of treatment, and I wish to rely on the clinical staff to exercise judgment during the course of treatment, which the clinical staff thinks at the time, based upon the facts then known, is in my pets best interest. I understand that results are not guaranteed.

I understand the clinical and administrative staff may review my pet's records, but all my pet's records will be kept confidential And will not be released without my written consent.

By voluntarily signing below, I show that I have read, or have had read to me, the above consent to treatment, have been told about the risks and benefits of acupuncture and other procedures, and have had the opportunity to ask questions. I intend this consent form to cover the entire course of treatment for my pet's present condition and for any future condition(s) for which I seek treatments.
